Integrate into south Jiangsu Three professors delivered speeches

By Tang Xiaofeng

On 28 February, CPC Nantong Committee held theoretical learning group mass learning (broaden) conference. Vice president of Suzhou CPC Committee school Fang Wei, director of Jiangsu Yangtze River delta research institute of Nantong University Cheng Changchun and professor of Nantong CPC Committee school were invited to deliver speeches.

In the Chinese economic reform, Suzhou formed ‘three treasures’, which are Zhang Jia Gang spirit, Kunshan road and industrial park experience.

Three professors analyzed in depth the ample content, spiritual essence and contemporary value of ‘three treasures’ of Suzhou in different aspects.

Ji Jianlin: four methods of ideological liberation

“ If Nantong really wants to ‘integrate into south Jiangsu in all fields’, it needs to learn from Suzhou people first, and has an ideological liberation. We shall combine the advanced development theory of Suzhou with local practice of Nantong, transform to Nantong’s spiritual motivation in the new period. The advanced development theory of Suzhou is in all aspects. Nantong shall learn from four aspects: forward looking development idea, brave innovation spirit, opportunity awareness, efficient executive power.

Fang Wei: grab innovative development opportunity

“ Fang Wei said that in the present Nantong is standing at the doorstep of trillion club. Several national strategies are here, especially the integrated development of the Yangtze River delta area which gives Nantong a great opportunity which is rare in the past one hundred years. Fang Wei thought that Nantong and Suzhou should contact and cooperate more closely in innovation and development, to make contributions to development of Jiangsu.

Cheng Changchun: create new economic growth point

“ Cheng Changchun suggests Nantong to enhance integration of the four aspects which are ‘space’, ‘industry’, ‘platform’ and ‘system’, build a modern industrial system with Nantong characters, lively regional innovation system, harmonious business environment, in order to promote Nantong’s integration into south Jiangsu, connection with Shanghai, promotion of high quality development and building of new economic growth point in Jiangsu.
